Breyer Law Offices announces West Valley teacher as winner of Teacher Appreciation Award

The Husband and Wife Law Team, Mark and Alexis Breyer, selected Jennifer Weber as Teacher Appreciation Award winner for November. Jennifer Weber teaches language arts to the seventh-grade at Westwind Elementary School in Phoenix. She was surprised in her first period classroom by attorney Mark Breyer, who brought in a giant check for $250, a plaque, and announced a pizza party for her class.

Mark Breyer is a certified personal injury specialist and attorney at Breyer Law Offices in Phoenix. Along with his wife Alexis, the Breyers award a monthly prize to one teacher that has gone above-and-beyond in their field.

A deserving winner

Jennifer Weber teaches language arts and is a Team Lead at Westwind Elementary School in Phoenix. She has been teaching with the Pendergast district for 14 years. Her current mission is to help improve language test scores at Westwind, a school with 1,200 students.

The winning nomination noted that Weber not only excels teaching writing to her students, but as a Team Lead, she inspires and guides the teachers she works with. “With her help, the seventh grade team and students have flourished. We have 81 percent of our students passing the reading test. She motivates both teachers and students to give it their all,” the nomination said.

She goes to bat for her struggling students, the nominator wrote. “Jenn is an amazing person, teacher and team lead.”

While Weber has only been with Westwind for a year, her impact has not gone unnoticed. Principal Natasha Camp noted that her performance as a language-arts teacher has consistently been among the strongest district-wide.

Appreciating the best

If everyone was paid by their worth, teachers would be millionaires. Until that day, The Breyer’s Teacher Appreciation Award aims to shine light on the hard-working and often underpaid teachers in the Valley. They’re doing it one at a time, by rewarding one astounding teacher each month.

Mark and Alexis, successful attorneys and parents to 8 children, know first hand the impact a great teacher makes. “I grew up seeing the importance of teachers in communities, and saw first hand how they give so freely, so their students can thrive,” said Mark Breyer.

The Team for Teachers: Breyer Law Offices

The Husband and Wife Law Team has been practicing personal injury law in Arizona since 1996. In October, Mark and Alexis were each named to the Top 5 personal injury lawyers in the Valley by North Valley Magazine. The firm was voted best law firm by a subsection of the Arizona Tribune. Mark and Alexis both hold perfect 10/10 “Superb” ratings on Avvo.com, a national attorney rating service.

The couple’s biggest source of pride is their happy clients. The law firm handles all serious injury and wrongful death cases, including auto, semi-truck, motorcycle, construction site, dog bites, premise liability and other injuries caused by another’s negligence.
