The Husband and Wife Law Team present

Teacher Appreciation Award

PHOENIX, Arizona, November 5, 2014 – In a second grade classroom filled with eager students, Phoenix attorney Mark Breyer stood to personally recognize one teacher that is going above and beyond for her students.

The morning began as Mark arrived at Kyrene de los Cerritos in Phoenix, Arizona with a giant check and customized plaque in hand. Principal Darcy Dicosmo and Student Advisor Sarah Collins walked Mark to Ms. Tibbott's classroom where he stood outside the door anxiously awaiting the big reveal.

As Mark made his entrance, Ms. Tibbott's second graders began oohing with excitement and one even said "She won the lottery!"

As far as educators go, it is Ms. Tibbott's students who have won the lottery. Ms. Tibbott's nominations explained that she made learning enjoyable with a combination of structure and fun, "If ever there was a teacher who loved their students, it would be Ms. Tibbott. She is full of energy and excitement when she teaches and is fair to all her students."

"Who thinks Ms. Tibbott deserves to win the best teacher in all of Phoenix?" Mark asked the class, to which he received a very enthusiastic response of "ME!"

The class was so happy for their very deserving teacher. After the award was presented, everyone went outside for a photo to commemorate the occasion with the giant check, plaque, and the announcement of the billboard that will be displayed in honor of Ms. Tibbott's award!

A Special Surprise for Local Teachers

Mark and Alexis Breyer of Breyer Law Offices, also known as The Husband and Wife Law Team, honors one Arizona teacher each month by gifting them $250, a personalized plaque, and a pizza party for their class based on nominations from the public. The award is the Breyer's way of showing their appreciation for teachers that do so much in comparison. Nominations are ongoing, and accepted via their website at www.breyerlaw.com/LawyersForTeachers.

The Teacher Appreciation Award began when Mark and Alexis felt the need to recognize local teachers for all of their hard work and dedication to their students. Three years later, there are hundreds of nominations every month and the program continues to grow. “We are thrilled each month to go through nominations and see how many wonderful teachers we have in our state.” says the couple.

As lawyers, parents, and members of the community, giving back to the deserving teachers that go above and beyond is important to the Breyers, as they have seen the impact that teachers have made in the lives of their own eight children.
